DIXON SECOND IN JUDGING CONTEST HELD SATURDAY

Rockford Team First; Preliminary to Big State Contest.

Students in agricultural classes of high schools in this locality came to Dixon Saturday and engaged in a sectional judging contest. The contests were staged at the Freed barn on Peoria avenue, the Hill Den farm owned and operated by Henry Hey and the E. N. Detweiler farm in Palmyra township. At the Freed barn, horses were judged; at the Hill Den farms, Holstein cows and Poland China brood sows were the subject of the contest; while at the Detweiler farm, Holstein cows and Duroc-Jersey hogs were judged.

Rockford led in the judging, the team from the high school of that city scoring in first place. Dixon was second; Stockton, third and Ashton, fourth. Out of a possible 250 points, those students scoring the highest were as follows:

Edward Johnson, Rockford, 231.

Kenneth Sanders, Ashton, 207.

Paul Vaupel, Ashton, 202.

Wilbur Fuls, Dixon, 200.

Everett Held, Dixon, 197.

The contest held here Saturday was a preliminary to the state judging contest to be held at the University of Illinois at Urbana on June 23 and 24. Students from the agricultural departments of the high schools from the entire state will compete at this time. The winning team picked from the state contest will be entered in the International show to be held in Chicago next winter.

After parking their instruments in the hotel, dinner was the first consideration. After wrestling with the menu and disposing of what was finally ordered the gang headed for Marshall Fields, which they took in a thorough manner. Then came the Art Institute, the Field Museum, a fire boat on the Chicago river, which the boys were lucky enough to have explained in detail to them. Then came supper, the broadcasting and a show of some kind afterwards.

Sunday after breakfast this gang of six went out to Lincoln Park where they took in all that there was to be seen, birds, beasts, etc. "Pete" to show that he was as good as Tom Mix, tamed and rode around the track one of the wild bucking ponies that are at the park for the younger generation. Then came dinner and the trip home, ending an event in their lives that they will never forget. Every one of the boys are grateful beyond expression toward the men who so generously gave their time and their cars and so made the trip possible.

The Junior B basket ball tournament held forth as usual Saturday morning and those present had "some" games. The Meadow Larks started the ball rolling by pulling down the Hoot Owls 4-0, which gives the Larks a chance to pass them in the standing before long. The Hawks then swooped down and gobbled the Ravens 16-1, every Hawk present participating in the scoring. And then came the surprise of surprises, the Little Wrens came off victorious in their battle with the Eagles, the score being 10-2. What's in a name?

First Game in Base Ball Tourney Today

The first game in the Grade School base ball tournament is scheduled for this afternoon at 4:31 at the South Side park when the E. C. Smith team bumps up against the North Central aggregation. The remainder of the schedule will be announced, together with the places of play, in a few days.

High School League is Being Considered

If any teams of high school age wish to enter a base ball tournament they should register at the physical department of the Y and if enough interest a tournament will be organized.

NEWS FROM DIXON

SATURDAY GREAT DAY FOR BOYS OF ASSOCIATION BAND

Had Lots of Fun and Broadcasted Dandy Concert in Chi.

Saturday was a wonderful day for about 30 boys of Dixon who belong to the Y. M. C. A. band. Starting at 5:30 a. m. and continuing till 11, cars loaded with the boys left at different intervals from the Y headed for Chicago where the band, under the direction of Earl C. Bennett, broadcasted from Station WMAQ, the Daily News Station on the Hotel LaSalle. That the boys had a good time goes without saying and this morning there are many sore necks, a result of gazing at the tall buildings.

Although a number of the boys had never been in Chicago before there were no instances of being lost—for very long—but one youngster who claimed to know the city like a book started off on the wrong foot right off the bat and instead of heading for the Hotel LaSalle started in the opposite direction. As an example of the time the boys had we will follow one group which arrived in Chicago about 11 bells.

After parking their instruments in the hotel, dinner was the first consideration. After wrestling with the menu and disposing of what was finally ordered the gang headed for Marshall Fields, which they took in a thorough manner. Then came the Art Institute, the Field Museum, a fire boat on the Chicago river, which the boys were lucky enough to have explained in detail to them. ## HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

may be sliced thin and browned in the oven and served on slices of toast.

Leftovers.
Left-over spinach or greens should be packed in small jelly molds and put in the refrigerator, and turned out when they are chilled and eaten as salad with French dressing.

Cucumber Salad.
Cucumber salads is always particularly good served with fish.

For Curtains.
When buying material for upholstery and curtains remember to buy more if you use a large pattern than if you use a plain or small figured material because you waste more in matching.

Use Covers.
If you use covers on saucepans while cooking you will save heat, and consequently gas.

Save Paper.
Save the tissue paper in which your bundles are wrapped and use it for cleaning off the dishes before you wash them. This makes the washing much easier.

Wash China.
Do not put food in the refrigerator in your dining room china as it is very apt to be chipped or broken.

Fish.
Never use a steel knife or fork in serving fish as it imparts a disagreeable odor to it.

Keeping Vegetables.
If asparagus or lettuce must be kept for more than a day or two put some water in a shallow dish and let the roots rest in that. Never have the water more than an inch deep.

Pear Salad.
Canned pears and dates combine to make a delicious and nourishing salad.

Cleaning Floors.
Crude petroleum can be used to cleanse floors that have been painted, varnished or oiled.

To Become Familiar with Good Landscapes

Decatur, April 26.—School children are to become familiar with good landscape gardening, good pictures and good sculpture, if the plans of the Illinois Parent-Teachers association, as outlined by Mrs. Benjamin Bachrach of this city, chairman of the School Beautiful committee, are worked out.

"No civilization is complete unless it combines the aesthetic with the practical," Mrs. Bachrach said. "The ultimate aim of the school beautiful committee is to have the child absorb with his growth, a love for the beautiful both in nature and art. To date most of our schools, both in the city and in the country have been woefully lacking in anything that would create or stimulate taste in the child. The grounds frequently are barren and the building itself is without paint, bleak and uninviting."

"The gorgeous scenery of the prairie has disappeared beneath the sod turned over by the plow. It is the privilege of the Parent-Teachers associations to make the school houses of our state noted for beauty of their surroundings, to restore local vegetation and to make them bird sanctuaries."

"Hillsides has her own style of planting—a style that follows the horizontal line of the prairie. As far as possible native trees and plants should be used in the school yard. The golden elder, the dogwood, the snowberry, the mountain ash, the sumach and any of the native trees that lend themselves to the situation. Bird houses, feeding shelves and fountains should be built by the children. Every school should have good pictures, but it is well to go slowly in the purchase of pictures. Reproductions of the great masterpieces should be bought from time to time and hung in places where they will show to the best advantage. Good pieces of sculpture should also be placed in the schools as they teach the child the beauty of mass and form, refine the instincts and are easily grasped by the eye."

ATTENDED SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION
Several members of the local Rebekahs and Odd Fellows went to Dixon on Friday evening to attend the school of instruction held at the Odd Fellows' hall there. A picnic supper was served. The following Sterling people were present: Mrs. Arthur Landis, Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Mrs. Anna Dyson, Mrs. Oliver Swartley, Miss Anna Boehm, Miss Lula Graham, Mrs. Ernest Swartley, Arthur Landis, Louis Taylor and A. Wittmer.—Sterling Gazette.

SUNSHINE CLASS TO MEET TUESDAY

The Sunshine Class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Sadie Winters, 510 Hennepin avenue. This will be the April Business Meeting, which was not held at the usual time on account of Passion Week. All interested in the work of the class are invited.

LADIES' AID GRACE CHURCH

The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace church will meet Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Clothes this season give the effect of simplicity even though the most elaborate handwork is employed. Here is a frock of georgette crepe in dark brown with a tunic and under-iron inserts of brown lace—a particularly heavy lace that stays quite flat and gives the appearance of being weighted. The pressed-in pleats that form the long waist are one of the most approved styles of trimming this season.

Presbyterian Missionary Society Meeting

The meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society on Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Agnes Raymond was well attended and most interesting.

Mrs. Lord's talk on the Bible gave many new thoughts. The facts concerning its publication and distribution, and the comments of noted men upon the Bible and its influence were very inspiring.

The paper on Siam by Mrs. P. H. Case was most enjoyable and instructive. Little is generally known of the climatic conditions, the many dangerous animals and poisonous serpents and insects which constitute fearful odds for the missionaries to face, and mental and moral condition of the natives. Yet one man and his wife worked there forty years and the results of their labors show today in many schools, hospitals and churches beside the thousands of converts which they were able to influence.

Enjoyed a Luncheon in Sterling Tuesday

Mrs. John Strub, District Chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Watts and Mrs. C. W. Bunnell, motored to Sterling, April 22nd, where they enjoyed a luncheon given in G. A. R. hall. The luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock by the members of the Sterling

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church will hold an all-day meeting Wednesday at the church, with a picnic dinner at noon. The regular business meeting will be held in the afternoon.

ORGANIST TAKEN ILL SHORT TIME BEFORE PROGRAM

But Pro-Easter Music Was Given at Saint Paul's Church.

The Pro-Easter program at St. Paul's Lutheran church given Sunday evening was exceptionally fine. The choir was assisted by Mrs. Winifred Leake of Amboy and LeRoy Long of Sublette. Miss Mary Hintz played the pipe organ, substituting for Mrs. Dwight Chapman so profitably as to receive many congratulations after the service.

Mr. Chapman became suddenly ill a short time before she was to start for St. Paul's, and for the first time in her service of the church was unable to meet her appointment. The choir director, Mrs. E. M. Goodsell, received the word after arriving at the church. Miss Hintz was called, and the service began only a few minutes late, the pastor, Rev. L. W. Walter, announcing the change of organist for the evening.

The procession, "Welcome, Happy Easter," by J. C. Marks, was followed by the usual vesper opening. After the invocation by the pastor, all lights were turned out representing the darkness at the crucifixion of our Lord, during a brief interval of silent prayer, which was very impressive.

TEN CENTS PER LINE FOR CARD OF THANKS.

Evidently there are some who do not understand that Card of Thanks run in a newspaper is purely a personal matter and not news, and consequently something for which a charge is made in all papers. Seventy-five cents is the minimum price in the Telegraph, so if those wishing a card run would send the money with copy it would save all further annoyance.

CHANGED APPETITES?

Our generation eats 30 per cent more food and 374 per cent more sugar than our grandparents, claims the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

The claim about increased sugar consumption is indisputable. Sugar has naturally taken the place of its twin-brother, alcohol.

But we doubt that modern people eat about a third more food than their grandparents, who thought nothing of a pound of ham, four eggs and 35 flapjacks apiece for breakfast. Statistics may indicate more food is being consumed. Our guess is that the increase goes into the garbage pail.

SUN HEAT.

A machine using mirrors to capture and focus the sun's rays heated an oven to a temperature of 175 degrees centigrade last year at Mount Vernon, Calif. Dr. Abbot, astronomer of Smithsonian Institution, built and operated the "solar cooker."

This summer he will renew his experiments on the practical basis of trying to use the heat of the sun for kitchen cooking. It would be all right except on cloudy days. Attempts to harness the sun will be more or less futile until a way is found to "can" its heat for uninterrupted use. It is a fascinating future possibility.

TEDDY BEAR.

The Teddy Bear was invented by Margaret Steiff, Bavarian dressmaker. A memorial portrait of her will be exhibited this spring at the Leipsic toy fair.

Margaret made a large fortune from the Teddy Bear industry she built up. And, measured by the joy she brought to children, she deserved all she got and more. Her life was symbolic of the amazing simplicity with which money can be made on a large scale.
The public would rather have a Teddy Bear or ice cream cone than a new motor.

SUICIDES.

The Save-a-Life-League is increasing its membership rapidly. It was founded eight years ago by Rev. Dr. Harry Marsh Warren.
In a sermon he urged people, who intended to commit suicide, to write or visit him first.
Gradually a clearing house for misery was built up. League members keep their eyes open for unfortunates in wretched situations that might tempt them to take their lives.

Twelve thousand Americans commit suicide a year. Dr. Warren says he finds that a promise to think it over until tomorrow usually gives the despondent a new grip on life.
This is true of nearly all situations that seem hopeless at the time. Wait and think!

FOOL-PROOF.

Roads can be made absolutely fool-proof
for traffic, a conference of eastern experts claims. Their program, for making accidents next to impossible, includes street widening,
slower auto speed and other usual methods.
Such a system can be approached but never attained.

If autos continue multiplying as fast as now, the day is ahead when cities will have to limit autos to overhead streets built like elevated railroads, or use tunnels. Even then, the highways would have to be divided into fenced lanes, one car to a lane, to avoid smashes.

MYSTERY.

Chemists have finally "isolated" three of the four known vitamins—the mysterious substances found in certain foods and necessary for growth and health.

Having isolated vitamins, the scientists learn their contents—nitrogen, carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. But ask them to tell you what nitrogen is, or the other three substances. No answer. When we flatter ourselves that we have increased our knowledge,

We merely have enlarged our consciousness of the extent of what we don't know. The more we learn, the less we know.

HENRY DID IT.

A glutten for statistics has figured out that every other auto is a Ford. Ten years ago there were only 405,000 Ford cars registered in the whole country. Now the figure is away beyond five millions.

There is nothing mysterious about what made Ford fabulously rich. He simply took a device that most people couldn't afford and manufactured it to be within reach of their pocketbooks. Ingersoll did the same with watches. And look at the crowded 10-cent stores. The road to wealth is as obvious as a $5 gold piece glittering in the sunlight.

FAREWELL, OLD TIMES.

You've seen Damascus pictured in the movies. Some call it the oldest community in the world. In Damascus is the famous "Street Called Straight."

Alas, the picturesque oil lamps that for centuries dimly lighted this romantic thoroughfare have been displaced by electric lights. Candles are going out of use in the little shops.

The Mechanical Age ruthlessly conquers the world. It all makes progress, yes. Also,
it makes the world more drab and monotonous.

BUILDING INCREASES.

The nation is spending at the rate of about three billion dollars a year for new building construction. Dun's Review reports that new building permits filed in March totaled nearly 319 million dollars.

So far this year, more money is going into building than a year ago. The importance of this is that the real solution of high rents is more homes.

SUBSTITUTES.

Artificial silk—"made from wood," to use a very rough description—is making rapid gains. In a year its production has increased by a half.

If the boll weevil gets beyond control, some one probably will discover how to produce cotton synthetically. We live in an artificial age. People no longer laugh at "substitutes."

Europe's intentions are good. She'd much rather owe it to us than cheat us out of it.

OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 13—THE KING OF THE GOLDEN TOUCH

"How do you do?" he said.

The next place the Twins went to in Once-Upon-A-Time Land was the castle of King Midas of the Golden Touch.
The little automobile bore the three travelers past seven vineyards and seven orchards and pretty soon they came to the famous castle.
The castle was on top of a high mountain and the only way one could get to it was by a narrow stone stairway cut out of the rock.
"My goodness!" panted Nancy when she reached the top. "I'd hate to live up here. If I had to climb these steps every time I did an errand for mother,
there wouldn't be anything left of me."
"I don't think much of it myself," added Mister Muggs, shaking his legs
one at a time to get the cramps out.
"Sh-h-h!" whispered a voice close by. "Please don't talk so loud. His highness might hear you and it would make him hopping mad. Some into this summer house and I'll tell you a secret."
So Nancy and Nick and Mister
Muggs went into the little summer house, and there sat a funny fellow with bells all over him, adding up sums.
"How do you do?" he said, bowing until all his bells jingled. "I am Hop-Skip-and-Jump, the court jester. It's my job to make the king laugh. It is also my duty to keep trouble away from the king. That's why I see all visitors first. Please sit down."
"I saw you coming miles away," said Hop-Skip-and-Jump. "I was looking out of my window. I can see around the world from here. So I always know when visitors are coming.

Will you do as I tell you?"
"Certainly," said Mister Muggs.
"All right, then," said Hop-Skip-and-Jump. "Take off your gold rings and gold watches and gold pins and everything that is gold about you. King Midas has a conviction fit if he sees so much as a gold tooth. It is one word he can't bear. Gold! That's why I add up the accounts out here, because he can't even think of money."
"Why?" asked Nick curiously.
"Well, once upon a time King Midas was poor. But a kind fairy said she would grant him one wish. So he wished that everything he touched would turn to gold."
"And so it happened. His wish was granted, and everything he put his fingers on instantly turned into gold.
Even his daughter turned to gold when he kissed her. When he touched food and water it also turned to gold, and he was starving. I don't know what would have happened if the fairy hadn't come back and taken away
the gift she had bestowed, and put things to rights."

LARGEST CROWD OF SEASON SAW YANKS STOP PHILADELPHIA

55,000 Fans Witnessed N. Y. Americans Go Into Second Place.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

The season's biggest baseball crowd—55,000—yesterday saw the Yankees win their seventh consecutive victory and stop the rush of Connie Mack's Athletics, 11-2. The world's champions landed in second place, a half game behind Detroit.

In Brooklyn the Giants came from behind to win 9-5 after Jake Fournier had accounted for five Robin scores with two home runs. The victory gave McGraw's team a full game lead over Chicago.

Detroit had a hard time to retain its American League lead. Cobb stole home for the second time this season, in the ninth with the bases full. Pratt wheeled Lyons for a pass and the run that gave the Tigers a 4-3 victory over Chicago.

First Triple Play
The first triple play of the major league season was executed by the Boston Americans in a loosely played game with Washington, which the latter won 9-6. J. Harris, Red Sox first baseman, speared a line drive, threw to Lee to retire Liebold off second and receiving the return caught S. Harris off first.

Four home runs featured Cleveland's 10-9 triumph over the Browns. Ken Williams made his first. Robertson and McManus of the Browns and Speaker of the Indians made the other three.

The relief pitchers of St. Louis were better than those of Cincinnati after both Benton and Pfeffer were driven from the game early. The Reds could not hold a four run lead and the Cardinals finally won 6-4.

Kaufman of the Cubs, supported perfectly, beat Landgren of the Pirates in a pitching battle, 4-2. Fielding by Statz featured the game. Each team made six hits.

Grantham Leads League
Grantham, Chicago, leads the National League hitters today with an average of .452 followed by Hornsby of the Cardinals .404. Heilmann, Detroit, leads the American League with .513.

Hornsby leads the major leagues with four home runs. Ruth of the Yankees, Fournier of the Robins, McManus of the Browns and Grantham of the Cubs have three.

The Chicago Nationals set a precedent when it was announced unused tickets for yesterday's game would be

Mike Cvetogros, Sox pitcher, was fined $200 by Manager Johnny Evers after he walked off the field after the Tigers had done everything but murder him. Every also charged Cvetogros did not try to pitch but merely lobbed the ball over.

"DIXON DELIGHTFUL"

Dixon Evening Telegraph: "Dixon Delightful" I want to extend my thanks to Joe E. Valle and the "Kl-growing number of trades unionists threatening to strike" if the government fulfills its announced intention to give and in so doing I surely stimulate the thought of Dixon Beautiful as we have a Theater Beautiful. Let each of us assist in making a City Delightful by being careful about throwing empty cartons, paper socks, gum and candy wraps in the streets, but take them to the nearest receptacle the authorities have furnished and deposit them therein and thus support, relieve, befriend, sustain, help and succor this laudable undertaking of making Dixon Delightful. "Yed."

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

Packard-Six 5-Passenger Touring Car

Rochelle, Illinois, April 21, 1924.

Messrs. Kasper & Marshall,
Rochelle, Ill.
Gentlemen:

You have asked me to state what I think of the Packard Six Coupe purchased of you last July. I am pleased with it. It has an excellent motor, rides comfortably, guides easily, will run faster than is safe to drive.

In ordinary driving I have had better than 16 miles per gallon of gasoline. It is free from petty annoyances.

Last December I left New Orleans where I spent the winter. I had to detour from Cairo to Memphis through the hills of Kentucky and Tennessee. I was compelled to drive from forty to fifty miles at a time through mud up to the running gear up hills and down dale, sometimes for four or five miles on low gear. The engine never heated and never failed to deliver the necessary power. It was then that I learned that there was more to a Packard than looks.

Very respectfully yours,

S. V. WIRICK, Attorney at Law.

All that anyone can possibly desire in performance, the Packard Six gives in generous measure. In speed, in acceleration, in sustained power, in amazing ease of control, in smoothness of operation, and in buoyancy of riding, it is far and away the finest six cylinder car in America today. That such dominant performance is enjoyed at the very minimum of operating cost is simply added proof of the extraordinary investment value of the Packard-Six.

A Tale of Two Men

Tom and George worked at adjoining desks. Both had been with the firm equal number of years. They were neck and neck on the road to Success. Their duties were the same. Likewise their ability.

But there was a difference between them. Tom wore good clothes. He looked prosperous. His appearance was of the kind that big business men like.

George paid no attention to his clothes. His suits, which were old, needed pressing. His ties were draggled and stringlike. He thought clothes a joke. And he supposed Tom a dude. That was five years ago.

Today George still labors at the old desk—at the old work. Tom is vice-president of the concern. He gives orders to George. He is acquainted with big men who like to be seen in his company. George still runs with the same shabby crew—"birds of a feather."

It is absolutely certain that good clothes will help any man along the road to Success. Nowadays most men are familiar with this fact. But some are slow to learn, and slow to progress to bigger pay and bigger things.

Capital's Service To The Consumer

Says James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, "No matter who owns the capital, capital works for everybody. The oil companies own the gasoline, but they have to tote it to the roadside where everyone can get it. Equal division is the goal that capitalism constantly approaches. No man wants all the gasoline. He wants six gallons at a time with a service station every few miles. Capitalism performs this service for him. Under 'capitalism', so-called, wealth is more equally divided than under any other system ever known."

The so-called "capitalists" who control the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are 46,016 stockholders, the majority of them small investors who earned and saved the money to buy stock.

This capital, because it is brought together in a large aggregate, is able to serve the community more effectively than if it were divided up and parceled out into 46,016 separate holdings.

In 1923 this capital brought millions of barrels of crude petroleum from the oil fields, so that during 1924 the 4½ million automobiles of the Middle West may be supplied with gasoline and oils.

This capital has erected large, modern, scientifically equipped refineries, in which to apply the most efficient cracking processes, so that the maximum amount of gasoline may be produced from the crude oil.

This capital has built up a distribution system, with storage depots and service stations at strategic points, throughout the Middle West. By means of this enormous and complete distribution system, petroleum products are delivered to the ultimate consumer with the utmost economy, and the motorist who needs but one gallon at a time receives as efficient service as the manufacturer who buys thousands of gallons.

Without capital the oil would stay in the ground, or at best would serve but a few people adjacent to the oil fields.

By serving the thirty million people of the Middle West with petroleum products, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) makes it possible for you, wherever you may live, to enjoy the benefits of the petroleum wealth of the United States. Without the employment of the capital of the stockholders of this Company this would not be possible.

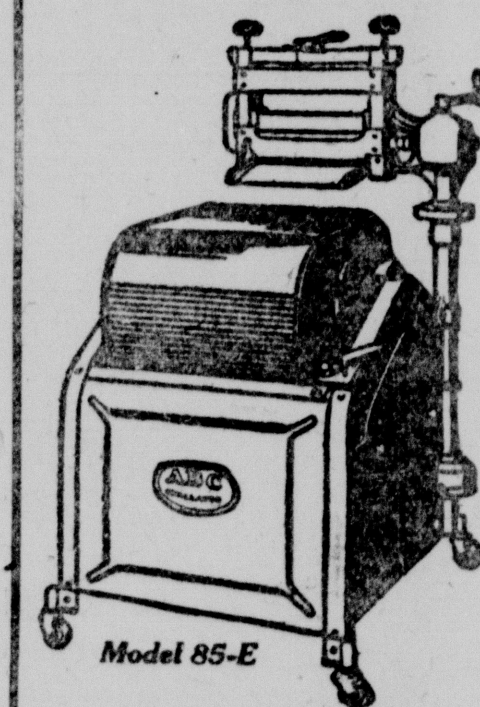

Under efficient management of a highly experienced Board of Directors, the capital of the 46,016 stockholders of this Company is working night and day for the service of the community.

MELLON'S GREAT SERVICE

By JOHN T. ADAMS,

Chairman of the Republican National Committee

The record of public economy and fiscal reforms made by the Republican administration since 1921 is the most remarkable that has been made anywhere in the world. The interest-bearing public debt on March 1, 1921, was $24,051,684,728. On March 31, 1924, it was $21,355,792,203, a reduction of $2,695,892,525. For every reduction of a billion dollars in our debt there is an annual interest saving of $45,000,000; thus the interest charges have been reduced in excess of $112,000,000 a year since the Republican administration came into control. Added to this is the savings obtained by the refunding of an average portion of the unpaid debt at a lower rate of interest than it originally carried. This is conservatively estimated to run into the tens of millions. During the last three years our foreign loans made during the war, aggregating $11,000,000,000, have been given attention by a commission of which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is the chairman. As a result of the work of this commission our loans to Great Britain and Finland, which constitute approximately 35 per cent of our total foreign loans, have been refunded and payments upon the principal and interest have begun. As a result of these financial policies, taken in conjunction with the general program of economy of this administration, our bonds have advanced from 85 to par or better, our expenditures have been reduced by over $2,000,000,000 a year, and a surplus has been created in the federal treasury. This has made it possible to propose another reduction in federal taxes, the first having been made by the Republican administration in the fall of 1921. It has been largely due to Secretary Mellon's work and counsel that all this has taken place, with the result that the United States has made greater progress in the way of financial readjustments following the war than any other nation. Secretary Mellon is the financial manager of the United States, and as such is responsible for the fiscal affairs of the greatest business institution ever known. His administration of the Treasury recalls the splendid traditions of that department under Alexander Hamilton.

"HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?"

There are two kinds of female gardening—as the keen observer has undoubtedly noticed. One is the unornamental variety with hoes and spades and sows, and is usually conducted in khaki knickers and a farmer's hat. The other is the dilettante type which sows little but reaps much admiration. It is to this second group that the charming smock tunic shown in the picture belongs. It is admirably suited to a stroll in the garden with one's latest admirer, with occasional snipping of leaves and picking of buds, and much inconsequential but enjoyable chatter. The blouse might also be used by her who dabbles with art, in which case it will be found occupying first place at studio tea parties. This model is developed in lustrous crepe de chine from the South Manchester looms, in a lovely shade of apricot. It is an excellent example of the new long, flat tunics which will be worn with separate skirts as the season advances, for it is a delightfully cool easy thing to slip into on warm days, and is guaranteed to agree with almost any type of skirt or slip. The lady in the picture chose to wear it over a skirt and under a hat of the new tourterelle (dove) color, and achieved a most restful effect. Drawn thread trimmings, which Henri Greange tells us are very fashionable for hot weather clothes, decorate the front and the two giant pockets which, originally designed for practical purposes, will probably contain no more than Milady's vanity case and the latest letter from her latest suitor.

WHAT LOVE IS LIKE

Love is like a lamb, and love is like a lion;
Fly from love, he fights; fight, then does he fly on;
Love is all on fire, and yet is ever freezing;
Love is much in winning, yet is more in leasing.

Love is ever sick, and yet is never dying;
Love is ever true, and yet is ever lying;
Love does dote in liking, and is mad in loathing;
Love indeed is anything, yet indeed is nothing.

—Thomas Moore

SONG

(Made extempore by a gentleman, occasioned by a fly drinking out of his cup of ale.)

Busy, curious, thirsty fly,
Drink with me, and drink as I;
Freely welcome to my cup,
Could'st thou sip and sip it up,
Make the most of life you may;
Life is short and wears away.

Both alike are mine and thine,
Hastening quick to their decline;
Thine's a summer, mine nor more,
Though repeated to threescore;
Threescore summers, when they're gone,
Will appear as short as one.
